DASHBOARD MANAGEMENT USE CASES

The Dashboard Management component provides users with tools to personalize and interact with their DevX360 workspace. The use case diagram illustrates the main functionalities of this component and highlights the interactions with different user roles.

The Dashboard Management component allows users to manage their personal and team workspace efficiently. Users can view and edit their profiles, customize the dashboard theme, and access information about their teams. Team leaders, as shown in the frontend use case document, have additional privileges, including inviting new members and creating teams.
